

BPCH will host a virtual two-day Advancing Patient-Centered Health Care Symposium (APCHC) on Tuesday, May 6, 2025, and Wednesday, May 7, 2025. We hope you can join us for discussions of promising practices and lessons learned with peers and experts.

Questions? Use the BPHC Contact Form. (Health Center Program > Accreditation and Patient Centered Medical Home Recognition (APCMH) – H80).

Present to your peers

Health centers, we invite you to share data-driven quality improvement projects that improved health outcomes and/or reduced health disparities and/or improved patient experience and/or improved patient access/

- Each presenter will have 30 minutes: 15 for your presentation and the remaining time to host a discuss of your presentation
- See the next section of this bulletin for more details on topics you might consider

Interested in presenting?

Complete the presentation information form to submit your abstract by Tuesday, February 4, 2025. It includes details on the structure for your proposed presentation.

Health Center Presentation Tracks

This year's Symposium has three tracks. We are especially interested in the priority areas listed below, relating to specific Uniform Data System (UDS) data and performance measures (refer to Tables 6B – Quality of Care Measures and 7 – Health Outcomes and Disparities).

Track A: Behavioral Health including Substance Use Disorder

- Adult
- Pediatric/adolescent
- Substance Use with a focus on opioid use
- Screening for depression and follow-Up plan
- Tobacco Use: screening and cessation Intervention
- Other innovations in behavioral health
- Workforce

Track B: Health Management

- Cancer screenings
 - Breast
 - Cervical
 - Colorectal
 - Other
- Dental
- Diabetes
- HIV
- Hypertension
- Obesity

Track C: Maternal and Child Health

- Childhood immunization
- Childhood nutrition and obesity
- Early childhood screenings
- Maternal mental health
- Prenatal care
- Postpartum care
- Women's health and wellness

If you or a colleague are interested in presenting, complete the presentation information form by Tuesday, February 4, 2025.

We will notify you by Thursday, February 13, 2025, if your submission is accepted or not.

For questions regarding the abstract submission process, please email abstracts@jcrinc.com.